Join us for an extraordinary evening with Jonah Platt, one of America's leading voices on Jewish life, culture, and current events, as he records a live episode of his acclaimed podcast, Being Jewish with Jonah Platt.

Jonah will interview Emmy Award-winning actress, producer, and human rights activist Debra Messing. Together, they will explore what it means to be Jewish in America as our nation marks its 250th anniversary, examining the rise of antisemitism and anti-Zionism, the importance of supporting the State of Israel, and the challenges and opportunities facing the Jewish community today.
